

Role: English teacher

Area: Education

Location: Al Dana, Syria

Direct Supervisor: Syria Educational Manager

Contract : 1 year

Still I Rise, an international NGO that works on the development and implementation of humanitarian projects aimed at the education and support of refugee children and teenagers, is looking for an English Teacher to join its current staff.

The selected person will join the Education Department and will be responsible for teaching a diverse population of eager students in a transient educational environment.

This position involves working both independently and with a teaching team.

The English Teacher will be an inspiring, proactive, and energetic person with strong mentoring abilities.

Still I Rise runs education programs within M'aan, our youth center, which will serve nearly 60 displaced and disadvantaged students aged 10-15 years.

KEY RESPONSIBILITIES:

- Lesson Planning: Plan, deliver and facilitate dynamic, active, and creative language lessons for a diverse class of 10-15 year olds.
- Progress Monitoring: Review and monitor the progress of all students and identify their individual learning needs in collaboration with Educational Manager
- Reporting and Admin: Managing all admin tasks such as attendance and assessment reporting to the Educational Manager
- Curriculum Design: All teachers are expected to contribute to the development of the academic curriculum, working independently and as a part of the team
- Behavioural Management: Managing students with differing life experiences and adverse childhood experiences in collaboration with Educational Manager
- Professional Development: Attend trainings and professional development meetings
